Brief about Event

The SU Startup and Entrepreneurship Council, along with IIC Saurashtra University in collaboration with the Department of Home-Science, was organized a celebration for International Women's Day on "Quick Fire Challenge: One Minute Madness" on March 8, 2024. Objective is to create awareness of gender equality for a healthy society.

This event began with the lighting of a lamp and then Dr. Ranjan Khunt, coordinator, SUSEC welcomed the guests in the event and gave a brief overview about IIC, SSIP and Incubation Centre.

In this day celebration, invited participants from diverse backgrounds - professionals, activists, students, etc. Women were encouraged to participate to emphasize the importance of inclusiveness. Dr. Priya Patel gave us information about International Women's Day and wonderful way to celebrate and highlight the achievements and contributions of women around the world. Multiple roles of women such as good mother, administrator and head of household, manager of family income, wife etc. explained by the speaker.

Each participant was given exactly one minute to present their idea, achievement or story related to the chosen theme. This could be in the form of a speech, quick presentation, spoken word performance or any other creative format. A diverse panel of judges was assembled who were knowledgeable about the theme and passionate about women's rights. Established clear criteria for judging, such as originality, relevance to theme, impact and clarity of presentation. Prizes or certificates of recognition were offered to winners and participants. At last, Attendees were encouraged to share their experiences using specific hashtags related to the event and International Women's Day. The day was celebrated with eagerness.

Key Points

During the session, below mentioned points were discussed:

- Gender equality
- Women's empowerment
- Women entrepreneurship
- Multiple roles of women
- women's rights
- Prizes and Recognition
- Quick Fire Challenge: One Minute

Outcome

By organizing the "Quick Fire Challenge: One Minute Madness" for International Women's Day, were able to create a platform for meaningful discussions, inspire others with stories of resilience and achievement, and contribute to ongoing efforts to promote gender equality worldwide.

This celebration is understood to be a sign of appreciation, respect, love and care towards women in our lives and society. Also, this program instilled respect and care for women in the minds of the younger generation. It was related to women entrepreneurship and awareness creation. It was very good informative session.
